

Good Samaritan Health Clinic of Pasco - 5334 Aspen St. - New Port Richey, FL 34652

February 28, 2022

Dear Friends,

In Pasco County, we believe that Nursing is a Work of Heart! Help Good Samaritan Health Clinic of Pasco recognize the contribution of nurses to the health of Pasco County during National Nurses Week, May 6 – May 12.

We are excited to announce that Good Sam's 16th Annual Nurses Gala is set for Saturday evening, May 7th with an outdoor, open-air event at the pavilion at the Kontos Event Center on the campus of St. George Greek Orthodox Church, 9426 Little Rd. in New Port Richey. This venue will allow us to fully recognize and celebrate Pasco County's finest nurses while still maintaining a safe environment for all.

The focal point of the evening's festivities once again is the announcement of several categories of Pasco County Nurse of the Year. We will be seeking nominations for our 2022 Nurse of the Year Awards from local hospitals, health facilities, medical practices and home health organizations. We will be announcing these awards on Saturday, May 7, but seeking nominations in March and April, with nominations due by April 17.

Throughout the pandemic, our clinic has remained open to serve Pasco County's medically uninsured, limited-income residents as we have since 1990. In 2021, Good Sam provided free health and dental care, including free prescriptions and labs, over 3,500 times to our friends and neighbors in Pasco County. It is through events like our Nurses Gala that we can assure that Good Sam can treat patients for chronic health conditions such as Diabetes, High Cholesterol, High Blood Pressure and COPD.

We have attached/enclosed sponsorship information and a nomination form for your review and consideration.

Please contact Mike Singer at the clinic at 727-848-7789, Ext. 242 or email msinger@goodsamclinic.org if you have any questions about the awards, nomination process or sponsorships. Thank you in advance for your support of the 2022 Good Samaritan Nurses Gala.
